In today's presidency we see a focus not only on the duties of state, but also the role and motivations of the First Lady. Students are challenged to look at the active roles First Ladies contributed to the country while their husbands were in office, in contrast to the contributions of the Presidents themselves and also how their roles affected public opinion during that time period.

Teacher Introduction

This WebQuest was developed on the basis of my own love for First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy and the coverage on First Lady Michelle Obama today. We are seeing in the media just as much emphasis on the causes of the First Lady as the President himself. From the concept stemmed the idea of having a lesson based around the effects of the role of the First Lady in the White House.
